

Give them something to remember

We're getting close the end of our Six Pillars of Character series, which seems appropriate as 2009 also draws to a close.

Who would you fire? Part 2

In our last post, we gave you a scenario in which you had to fire someone – fairly. And like many of life's tough questions, there is no correct answer.