

Bringing character to businesses

How do you build character into a business? In today's guest blog, Joel Duncan of Des Moines talks briefly about the effects Character Counts In Iowa has had on Merit Resources.

How the Six Pillars help us do our best work

Your best self. Your best work.

What's the main thing?

How does our character play a role in what our world is facing today? Paul Smith gives us his insight on issues we face and how asking ourselves simple questions based on the Six Pillars can drastically change our present and future.
