

What does your reaction to this video say about you?

Your values are the building blocks of your character – they are what is important to you. What does this video have to do with your values?

If you believe in kindness and compassion, this clip will probably evoke some emotion from you. Not only can we sympathize with the young singer, we are also moved by the compassion and kindness of the gentleman who helped her (Mo Cheeks). If we don't value kindness, this video probably has little meaning to us.

What else does your reaction say about your values?

Learn more about character education.