

Developing character

Asking for something is easy. Being responsible for it is the part that develops character. Character education quotations.

Reinvigorated communities

When strangers start acting like neighbors, communities are reinvigorated. Character education quotations.

Courtesy

Life is short but there is always time for courtesy. Character education quotations.

Courage to ask for

You get in life what you have the courage to ask for. Character education quotations.

What will continue

Stress and connections

Here are five simple activities you can do to help your brain focus on the positive, and thus be more resilient in the face of stress.

The honest woodcutter

Honest is the best policy.

Do you think white lies are off-color?

So the next time you find yourself saying “just this one time,” remember what you’re trading off in the process.

Be right in silence

Sometimes it’s wiser to be right in silence. Character education quotations.

Love all

Love all, trust few, do wrong to none. Character education quotations.